Read this forum on friendship. Match the paragraph headings (a-f) to the paragraphs (1-5). There is one heading you don't need

a. Falling out

d. Personal qualities

b. Making up

e. Shared interests

c. Making Friends

f. Best friends

1 C .....

I'm really shy, so I've never found it easy to start talking to people. I remember my first day at school. Everyone was chatting away and I just stood on my own, wishing I was brave enough to go up to someone and say 'Hi'. Luckily, I ended up sitting next to a really nice girl and she helped me get over my shyness.

2 D .....

There are lots of characteristics which are important in a good friendship. For me, the most important thing is honesty. I need to know that my friend will always tell me the truth. And, of course, they should be there for you when you need them. I know I can always count on my close friends. And let's not forget, a sense of humour is important too!

3 E .....

It's good to have loads of things in common with your friends, but I don't think it's necessary to do everything together. I love sport but I also love playing the guitar, so I have some friends who are sporty and others who are into music. They know one another, but they don't necessarily hang out together.

Vocabulary :

Fall out : to have an argument

Make up : Be reconciled

PRACTICE #9:

a. Falling out

d. Personal qualities

b. Making up

e. Shared interests

c. Making Friends

f. Best friends

4 A .....

I think I'm pretty easygoing and I don't like having arguments with my friends, but just recently I found out that my best friend had been saying things about me and yet when I asked her about it, she denied it, so we're not speaking to each other. I feel sad that I've lost my best friend, but I'm sure it won't last long.

5 F .....

I've known Josie for ever! People who don't know us, think that we must be sisters because we're always together and we even look the same. Dad's got a new job, which means we're going to have to move, so Josie and I won't be able to see each other very often. At least we can call each other, but it won't be the same. I really hope that we don't lose touch.
